The joint ICMC|SMC|2014 Conference will take place in Athens, Greece, from 14 to 20 September 2014 and, for the first time, it will bring on the cross-road two well established events: the International Computer Music Conference (40th ICMC) and the Sound & Music Computing conference (11th SMC).

The main theme of the Conference is “Music Technology meets Philosophy: From Digital Echos to Virtual Ethos”.

We invite researchers in music and sound computing, composers, musicologists and philosophers for a fruitful dialogue on related topics in order to redefine the past, present and future of computer music and sound computing.

The ICMC|SMC|2014 joint Conference will include lectures, special sessions, demonstrations, indoors & outdoors concerts, installations and workshops as well as a summer school, given in various places ranging from concert halls and university auditoria to museum lobbies and archaeological sites.

The ICMC|SMC|2014 invite submission of:

- papers and posters involving aesthetic, compositional, educational, musicological, scientific, and technological aspects of computer music, sound and music computing, and digital audio,
- music works and sound installations that will be performed in the frame of the Conference,
- studio reports, demonstrations and workshops.

Extended deadline for all submissions: 15 April 2014

ICMC|SMC|2014 will include a Summer School (11-14/9) in "Computational Music Analysis" (deadline for applications 30 April 2014).

The ICMC|SMC|2014 joint Conference is organized by:

- the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (Department of Music Studies and Department of Informatics & Telecommunications),
- the Institute for Research on Music and Acoustics and
- the Onassis Cultural Center
